

Alex Wong

University of Hong Kong (HKU)
Class of 2016

2011 CSE Alumni in Hong Kong

What are you studying now at university?

I am majoring in Architecture, and I have been studying rural houses in Chinese villages. I have also been focusing on studio designs and drawing inspirations from contemporary houses.

What is one highlight of CSE that still remains with you today?

When I was a CSE student, the highlight was the friends that I made along the process of CSE. I still keep contact with fellows from Scotland and the UK and with Co-fellows from HKU.

What did you draw from CSE that you still reflect upon in your current studies?

When I was a CSE Co-fellow, I was able to organise art workshops as evening activities. This has served as an experience for my leadership and event management skills.

What summer programme or long-term extracurricular activities did you participate in while in secondary school?

In addition to CSE, I had an internship at Young Post of South China Morning Post and joined Sino-Japanese Youth Conference at Li Po Chun United World College.

What about university life do you wish to share with CSE 2014 participants?

HKU has a great student body - you will learn from peers as much as from teachers!
